		CLASSIFICATION SECRET 2
COŬNTR	Υ	REPORT NO
TOPIC		Military Information from Fuerstenwalde
25X1	······································	25X1X
EVALUATI	ION	PLACE OBTAINED 25X1A
DATE OF	CONT	ENT
DATE OB	TAINE	DATE PREPARED 15 January 1954
		25X1A
		ENCLOSURES (NO. & TYPE)
REMARKS	)
ah mada mada mada mada aka kana kana ka	т ст во А лада т ем е 1949,	The state of the s
And the strategy to an angular control	- a + substance agrang	AND IN COMPANY AND AND REAL PROPERTY AND
A - V - Self-American American	Color does brown room
SOURCE
-SOUNGE		25X1X
	1.	On 16 December 1953, the Pionier Kaserne in Fuerstenwalds was accupied by about 1,500 troops who were red-bordered black epaulets with tank, artillery, signal and motor transport insignia. Almost daily between
1		artillery, signal and motor transport insignia. Almost daily between 10 and 16 December, 4 T-34/85 tanks were seen moving from the barracks installation toward Waldschaenke where 90 to 100 troops engaged in braining on the large drill grounds.  On 16 December, the barracks installation on Braunsdorfer Status was occupied by about 1,300 troops who were red-bordered black encelets with
. *		on 16 December, the barracks installation on Braunsdorfer Subase was occupied by about 1,300 troops who were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery, signal and motor transport insignia. Almost daily between 10 and 16 December, 4 T-34/85 tanks were seen moving from the barracks installation toward Waldschaenke where 90 to 100 troops engaged in braining on the large drill grounds.  On 16 December, the barracks installation on Braunsdorfer Subase was occupied by about 1,300 troops who were red-bordered black epaulets with artillery, signal and motor transport insignia. Intensive artillery fire was daily heard from a northwesterly direction between 10 and 12 December. On 11 December, 3 trucks towing 85-mm AA guns drove toward the barracks
1		on 16 December, the barracks installation on Braunsdorfer Smease was occupied by about 1,800 troops who were red-bordered black epadlets with artillery, signal and motor transport insignia. Almost daily between 10 and 16 December, 4 T-34/85 tanks were seen moving from the barracks installation toward waldschaenke where 90 to 100 troops engaged in braining on the large drill grounds.  On 16 December, the barracks installation on Braunsdorfer Smease was occupied by about 1,800 troops who were red-bordered black epadlets with artillery, signal and motor transport insignia. Intensive artillery fire was daily heard from a northwesterly direction between 10 and 12 December. On 11 December, 3 trucks towing 85-mm AA guns drove toward the barracks installation.  No training activity was noticed in the barracks area. On 15 December, blasts were heard at regular intervals from the Spree target range on the north back of the
. *		on 16 December, the barracks installation on Braunsdorfer Subset was accupied by about 1,800 troops who wore red-bordered black epaulets with barracks installation.  On 16 December, the barracks installation on Braunsdorfer Subset was accupied by about 1,800 troops who wore red-bordered black epaulets with sartillery, signal and motor transport insignia. Intensive artillery fire was daily heard from a northwesterly direction between 10 and 12 December.  On 11 December, 3 trucks towing 85-mm AA guns drove toward the barracks installation.  No training activity was actived in the barracks area. On 15 December, blacks were best of the barracks area.
. *	2.	on 16 December, the barracks installation on Braunsdorfer Smease was occupied by about 1,800 troops who were red-bordered black epadlets with artillery, signal and motor transport insignia. Almost daily between 10 and 16 December, 4 T-34/85 tanks were seen moving from the barracks installation toward waldschaenke where 90 to 100 troops engaged in braining on the large drill grounds.  On 16 December, the barracks installation on Braunsdorfer Smease was occupied by about 1,800 troops who were red-bordered black epadlets with artillery, signal and motor transport insignia. Intensive armillery fire was daily heard from a northwesterly direction between 10 and 12 December. On 11 December, 3 trucks towing 85-mm AA guns drove toward the barracks installation.  No training activity was noticed in the barracks area. On 15 December, blasts were heard at regular intervals from the Spree target range on the north back of the spree River near Lichtborn (sic). The throwing of hand grenades was apparent

CLASSIFICATION SECRET,